For the prevention and cure o
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

From Belknap's History of New Hampshire.

"Were I to form the picture of a happy society, it would be a town consisting of a due mixture of hills, vallies and streams of water; the land well fenced and cultivated; the roads and bridges in good repair; a decent inn for the refreshment of travellers, and for public entertainments. The inhabitants mostly husbandmen, their wives and daughters domestic manufacturers; a suitable proportion of handicraft workmen, and two or three traders; a physician and a lawyer, each of whom shall have a farm for their support; a clergyman of any denomination, which should be agreeable to the majority, a man of good understanding, of candid disposition and exemplary morals—not a metaphysical, nor a polemic, but a serious and practical preacher; a schoolmaster, who should understand his business and teach his pupils to govern themselves; a social library, annually increasing, and under good regulations; a club of sensible men, seeking mutual improvement; a decent musical society. No intriguing politician, horse jockey, gambler or sot; but all such characters treated with contempt. Such a situation may be considered as the most favorable to social happiness of any which this world can afford."

CURIOSITIES OF LITERATURE.

Translated from the French of Marville.

Imprisonment of the Learned.

Imprisonment seems not much to have disturbed the man of letters in the progress of his studies.

It was in prison Boethius composed his excellent book on the consolations of philosophy.

Exotics wrote, in his confinement, his Commentary on Saint Matthew.

Buckanan, in the dungeon of a monastery in Portugal, composed his excellent and most agreeable book in the Spanish language (Don Quixotte) during his captivity in Barbary.

Charles the First, during his cruel confinement at Holmsby, wrote that excellent book entitled "The Portrait of a King;" which he addressed to his son, and where the political reflections will be found not unworthy of Tacitus.

Sir Walter Raleigh produced in his confinement his History of the World; of whom it is observed, to employ the language of Hume, "they had leisure to reflect on the hardship, not to say the injustice of his sentence. They pitied his active and enterprising spirit, which languished in the rigours of confinement—They were struck with the extensive genius of the man who, being educated amidst naval and military enterprises, had surpassed in the pursuits of literature even those of the most recluse sedantary lives; they admired his unbroken magnanimity, which, at his age, and under his circumstances, could engage him to undertake and execute so great a work as his History of the World."

OF THE BLACK CURRANT.

The small shrub which produces this fruit is very well worth the farmer's notice, and perhaps may prove of greater importance than has yet been known. It is a native of England, and is hardy enough to live any where in hedges. It must not be considered as a proper shrub to make the fence; but it may very well be planted here and there among the rest, for the sake of fruit. We were long acquainted with the use of these in tarts, before Mr. Baker, a very worthy member of the Royal Society, revived their use in sore throats; for which they were formerly so famous in England, that the shrub was called squinancy wort, that is, quincy herb; and for which we do not at this time know a greater medicine. It has been long known in France that this fruit is good for the feverish disposition of cattle; and that when a purging comes on with such an illness, it is a sovereign remedy. Instinct directs cattle to find it where it is native; and if it were planted in hedges they would not fail to seek it out for their own benefit. The terrible disease among the horned cattle, which has raged so many years throughout a great part of Europe, always is attended with an inflammation of the throat, which continues through the whole intestinal canal. From what we know of the effects of this fruit in sore throats among our own species, and in the purgings and feverish illness of cattle, may it not be reasonable to expect great good from it in this terrible disorder?

[Boston Intelligencer.

ALEXANDRIA:
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1818.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Tuesday, March 3, 1818.

The Expatriation Bill was yesterday under the consideration of the house, and with little, if any, more effect than on the preceding days. The lopping off of the first section seemed to be no objection to the efforts of its advocates to give it life with all its functions; and called to my mind the blind but sturdy efforts of a large blue-bottle fly to push forward and keep moving, after it had been deprived of its head by some cruel unlucky boy: it moves and rushes forward somewhere—but where that somewhere is, it knows not. The expedient of fastening on the head again could not be put in practice, because the head itself was destroyed; and therefore recourse was had to a substitute, to the following effect, which was offered by Mr. Johnson of Va.

"That whereas sundry persons, who had been citizens of the United States of America, and who had exercised the right of dissolving the connexion which bound them to the United States in the character of citizens, by voluntarily and regularly becoming citizens or subjects of other governments, have been held bound to answer in the character of citizens, in the courts of the United States, for offences alleged to have been committed subsequently to the exercise of this right; and for which citizens only would be amenable in the said courts: And whereas in the Declaration of Independence of the Thirteen United States of America, the following truths are held to be self-evident—That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness—Therefore be it enacted, and it is hereby expressly enacted and declared, that all men do possess the right to seek their happiness in any climate and under any form of government they may elect; and that, consequently, the right to dissolve the connexion which binds the individual to the government of the United States, in the character of citizen, and to form a similar connexion with any other government, is equally unalienable, and founded on truth equally self-evident."

A smart debate succeeded to this proposition, occasioned by a motion of Mr. Colston to postpone the subject indefinitely. Several members opposed the house's legislating at all upon the subject; but Mr. Lowndes, particularly, argued the matter with great perspicuity and irresistible force of reasoning. Mr. Colston's proposition, however, was negatived, and Mr. Johnson's substitute was dismissed after it.

Still, however, the champions of expatriation boldly kept the field; and Mr. Robertson moved another substitute to the effect, that "in case of any citizen of the United States who had exercised the right of expatriation being prosecuted for having engaged in the military or naval service of any foreign state or government against any other, when without the jurisdiction of the United States, he may give such fact of expatriation in evidence, upon the general issue, and if he shall be able to prove such fact to the satisfaction of the jury, shall be discharged from prosecution."

Let it be remembered that when this subject was first started by Mr. Robertson, he stated that his object in bringing it before the house was to expunge from the judicial records of the country, and for ever erase the principle laid down some years ago by chief justice Ellsworth, in a memorable trial that took place in Connecticut, in which that great man declared that no citizen could be absolved from his allegiance by his own will. The substitute now offered by Mr. Robertson, if carried, would go to completely accomplish that object. Whether it ever will be carried or not, is yet to be seen; for, on motion of Mr. Trimble, the proposed substitute was ordered to lie on the table, and is to be printed in order to afford the house time and means for due consideration of it.

From the Norfolk Herald, Feb 27.

The Revenue Cutter, which was dispatched by the collector a few days ago in search of a little schooner, fitted out in this port under suspicious circumstances, returned on Wednesday evening without having seen any thing of the object of her pursuit. Capt. Ham, of the cutter, put into all the neighboring rivers that were navigable, and made particular enquiry of the inhabitants in their vicinity, after the said schooner, informing them at the same time of the strong presumption of her being fitted out for piratical purposes—but could gain no intelligence of her. We learn, however, from the information of Mr. Williams, a pilot, of this town, who arrived yesterday from East-River, that the schooner put into North-River, where she was laying concealed from the view of the cutter, which at one time was within a short distance of her. The inhabitants of Mathews county, on learning the supposed character of their visitor, armed themselves and went in a body to take possession of her, which they did without meeting with any resistance. But being undetermined how to proceed, they only took charge of the schooner and her armament, but did not detain the crew, who shortly after engaged a small schooner to take them to Baltimore, towards which place they proceeded. Mitchel, the captain, however, chose to remain, with a view to the recovery of the vessel! It is a pity that this lawless band were not detained, as they have it now as much in their power to commit depredations, as they had before their vessel was taken from them.

From the Milledgeville Journal, Feb. 17.

INDIAN WAR.

Major general Jackson, accompanied by the officers of his staff, arrived at Fort Hawkins yesterday week, and has since gone on to Hartford, the head quarters of general Gaines. A thousand mounted men from Tennessee, it appears, are to co-operate in chastising the Indians.—We have no confidence in the idea suggested by one of the Nashville papers, that the capture of Pensacola is contemplated.

TREATY WITH THE CREEK INDIANS.

Substance of the treaty made and concluded between D B. Mitchell, esq. agent for Indian affairs, and the Creek nation of Indians, at the Creek Agency, Jan. 22, 1818.

Art. 1. In consideration of certain sums of money to be paid to the said Creek nation by the government of the United States, as hereinafter stipulated, do cede and forever quit the claim unto the United States, all right, title and interest which the said nation have or claim in or unto the two following tracts of land, situate, lying and being within the following bounds, viz: 1st beginning at the mouth of Goose creek, on the Alatamaha river, thence along the line leading to the mounts at the head of the St. Mary's river, to the point where it is intersected by the line run by the commissioners of the United States under the treaty at Fort Jackson, thence along the said last mentioned line to a point where a line bearing the same shall run the nearest and a direct course by the head [illegible] to the Ocmulgee river; thence down the Alatamaba to the first mentioned bounds at the mouth of Goose creek. 2d beginning at the high shoals of the Appalachie river, and from thence along the line designated in the treaty made at the city of Washington, on the 14th day of November. 1815, to the Ulcofauchachee, it being the first large branch, a fork of the Ocmulgee above the Seven Islands, thence up the eastern bank of the Ulcofauhatchee by the water's edge to where the path leading from the high shoals of the Appalachie to the Shallow Ford on the Chatahochee crosses the same; and from thence along the said path to the Shallow Ford on the Chatahochee river, thence up the Chatahochee river by the water's edge on the eastern side to Suwama old town; thence by a direct line to the head of Appalachie, and thence down the same to the first mentioned bounds at the high shoals of Appalachie

Art. 2. The United States are to pay within the present year the sum of twenty thousand dollars, and ten thousand dollars annually for the term of ten succeeding years, without interest, making in the whole eleven payments in the course of eleven years, the present year inclusive, and the whole sum to be paid one hundred and twenty thousand dollars.

Art. 3. Agreed on the part of the United States, that in lieu of all former stipulation relating to blacksmiths, they will furnish the Creek nation for three years with two blacksmiths and two strikers.

Art. 4. The president may cause any line to be run which may be necessary to designate the boundary of any part of both or either of the tracts of land ceded by this treaty, at such time and in such manner as he may deem proper. And this treaty shall be obligatory in the contracting parties as soon as the same shall be ratified by the government of the United States.

From the Baltimore Federal Republican.

It has been stated with great confidence that the Treasury of Maryland is bankrupt—that this has happened under a federal administration, and that the money was expended amongst the favorites of government. This calumny found a cordial reception at Washington, where it was invited, while it honored that city with its residence, to take up its abode in the columns of the National Intelligencer. Such tidings must have been peculiarly acceptable to Joseph Gales and other exalted patriots of his stamp.—Now let us look at the real statement of this transaction. We presume it will not be denied that Maryland during the last war was indebted for her own salvation under Heaven to the zeal and patriotism of her own citizens—we presume that no member of the general government will declare that there were extraordinary aids either in men or in money granted by congress or administration, by which our deliverance from the hands of the enemy was brought about. If Joseph Gales and his patriotic brethren, while looking on the fire-brands of Washington, are prepared to make assertions of this kind, we should not indeed be astonished; but still such assertions would have nothing but their falsehood to entitle them to public confidence. By whom was the militia who so generously came forward in defence of Maryland fed and clothed? By the government of Maryland, aided by the banks, who, when the general government abandoned Maryland to her own exertions, loaned the requisite funds for this purpose. This has occasioned that drain on the Treasury, which honest Joseph Gales republishes as such a disgrace to the federal party. Yes, let it be remembered that this expenditure was made by the Federal party—men who did at that time and have ever since wielded the destinies of Maryland—men who did not hesitate to advance the requisite funds while Washington was in ashes, and our cabinet flying in every direction from the flames. How did it happen that Baltimore was preserved while Washington was in ashes? it was owing to this very drain upon the Treasury of Maryland of which our democratic editors now complain, for by these loans were the defenders of Baltimore supported and maintained while risking their lives in defence of the city. This is no electioneering finesse—it is sober and sacred truth, as is evident from the documents which we publish in our paper of to day. Often and often has the successful resistance made to the "demonstration" of the English on Baltimore been cited, and exultingly cited in the columns of the National Intelligencer, as evidence of the glory which our administration gained by the war. At the time while this beautiful compliment is paid to the general government, Joseph Gales happens to forget by whom it was brought about, and cites the drain on our Treasury, (indispensable in such a crisis) as evidence how the public money has been lavished and squandered away by a federal administration. Let our readers peruse the following documents, and then judge for themselves. Let them determine whether this drain upon the Treasury was in consequence of a federal misapplication of public money, when by such an approbation Baltimore was preserved from sharing the fate of Washington. Our administration have remarks are true by the voluntary assumption of the debt.

Extract from the records of the senate of Maryland, Feb. 16, 1818

The Clerk of the senate delivers the following communication from the executive:

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
Annapolis, Feb. 16, 1818.

GENTLEMEN,

I have the satisfaction to communicate to the honorable the General Assembly, that the payment of the claim of the state of Maryland, for the expenses of militia called into service during the late war, has been assumed by the general government. The enclosed letter from the agent, at Washington, contains an assurance also, that the claim will be settled with promptitude and liberality. The assumption of this claim as soon as its nature was properly explained, affords the most satisfactory evidence of its intrinsic justice, while the documents before communicated, illustrate the distinguished ability and zeal with which it has been enforced by the agent of the state.

The finances of the state being restored by the payment of this claim, the injuries and destruction occasioned by the depredations of the enemy being repaired, and the citizens of the state in general entering, with increased ardour and unwonted harmony, on the prosecution of the peaceful pursuits of civil life, I cannot forbear, in the moments of our separation, congratulating the honorable the General Assembly on the prosperity of Maryland. Her speedy restoration, from a situation of unprecedented alarm and calamity, to one of vigorous prosperity, affords the best proof of the wisdom which has guided her councils, and the firm patriotism of her people—while from it we may draw a fresh practical illustration, that a people true to themselves and their country, have nothing to fear from domestic calamity, or the assaults of foreign hostility.

I have the honor to be,
with great respect,
your most obedient serv't,
C. RIDGELY, of Hampt.

The honorable the President of the senate, and the honorable the speaker of the house of delegates

Washington, February 14th, 1818.

SIR,

I have the pleasure to announce to you, that I have obtained from the honorable the Sec'ry of War, an order to the auditor of his department, for the settlement of the claim of Maryland on the United States, for the militia expenses incurred during the late war with Great Britain—and I am assured, that the same liberal policy, which has dictated the assumption of this claim, will be extended to the detailed adjustment of it.

I have the honor to be,
with high respect,
Your most ob't serv't,
JOHN L. KERR.

To his excellency Charles Ridgely of Hampton, Governor of Maryland.

Copy from the original on file in the executive department of Maryland.

NINIAN PINKNEY,
Clerk Council.

Which was read.

On motion of Mr. Jenifer, the following resolution was twice read and assented to.

Resolved, That the governor and council be and they are hereby authorized to invest the amount of the sum assumed by the general government due to this state, provided it be paid in money in such a manner as they may deem most expedient.

The House adjourned until the first Monday in December next.

Trenton, (N. J.) Feb 23.

On the 15th inst. about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, a daring and partially successful attempt, was made by two of the convicts in the New-Jersey state prison, near this place, to effect a general release of the prisoners confined in that institution. At the time the prisoners were assembled in the large room, after supper, previous to their being conducted to their several places of confinement for the night, two of the most adroit and daring among them, who had planned and prepared for the undertaking, succeeded in making their way to, and in opening he large grated door leading to the entry of the keeper's apartment, and thence out of the prison. Each had armed himself with a bayonet from the gun shop. They rushed into the keeper's office, where were himself and son-in law, and there seized each a musket with a fixed bayonet (from the arms kept for the security of the prison.) They bade the keeper and his companion to be quiet at their peril, who, however, after an ineffectual attempt to get at the arms, made their escape from the office, and raised an alarm.—The desperadoes then went back to their fellow prisoners in the long room, threw open the door, told them the way was clear, and to make their escape. This invitation, from the ignorance of the others of what had taken place, was not embraced with that alacrity that it probably would have been, had they known at the time the real state of things—and two of their companions, who were among the first that gained the grated door opening to the entry of the keeper's apartments and thence to the street, forced it back upon the rest, and maintained their ground till the arrival of the keeper, his assistants and others, who came forward on the alarm being spread in the neighborhood, and rendered it necessary for them to retreat to their several places of confinement.

But one of the convicts, save the two desperadoes who planned, and so far executed the project, succeeded in getting beyond the confines of the prison—and he was soon after apprehended and bro't back. The two leaders, with each a gun and bayonet, succeeded in getting off.—Their names, Hugh M'Carty, and Wm. Knowles, alias Ross—noted offenders.

Patterson, (N. J.) Feb. 12.

A rare instance of affection and benevolence, from a daughter to an aged parent found in distress, and of whom, from a lapse of time and her extreme youth, at the period of separation, she retained little or no recollection.

Some two or three weeks since, a lady of respectable appearance, called at the house of the writer of the following narrative, and was very inquisitive about a certain Mr. ——, who, she had heard, resided some where in this quarter. From her description, the writer concluded he know the person; and informed her, that if he proved to be the same, he was very poor, and that he (the writer) believed a town charge. She enquired particularly whether his poverty proceeded from improper conduct, or from misfortunes incidental to human nature. Until she could ascertain this fact, it seemed, she did not feel disposed to acknowledge any relationship; the writer being but partially acquainted with the circumstances of the old gentleman, referred her to a neighboring lady, who had resided several years in the same neighborhood with him, at a few miles distant from this town, from whom, he presumes, she obtained the necessary information; and, after travelling 400 miles on her way to the city of N. York, (where, she was informed, he had taken his residence for the present winter) she found him a small distance from the landing next below this place, after an absence of upwards of 30 years.

Further particulars of this little history, as related to the writer hereof.

Sometime during the revolutionary war, the said Mr. ——, sailed out of the port of Salem, (Mass.) on a privateering voyage, whether as an officer or as private seaman, is not known; he has, however, by some means obtained the title of Captain, by which he still goes. He left behind a wife and three small daughters, in what circumstances has not been ascertained; his wife, however, died during his absence, and the children became dispersed. After some time, he returned from sea, came to New Jersey, got married, and resided many years in the neighborhood above mentioned. He [illegible] his second wife, and from what causes the narrator has not been correctly informed, being very indigent, and finally a town charge.

In this situation, with a beard of four or five months growth, and in tattered garments, she (who proved to be his own daughter) found him. The scene, no doubt, was pathetic and affecting. Like the good Samaritan, she poured oil and wine into his wounds. She left him pecuniary assistance to relieve his necessities, if any should occur, until her return from the city, which was in a few days, when she expended to the amount of fifty dollars to clothe him in a suitable manner; she also procured him comfortable board, and in addition, she left with a respectable gentleman, money sufficient to discharge said board, and support him handsomely until spring, when she will either come or be heard from again. It appears that the lady in question, had the good fortune to marry a wealthy man, that dying, his estate became hers, and angel like, she is distributing it to the most laudable of purposes, in travelling in seach of finding and succoring a long lost and distressed parent. May the parent of all good, reward her, and so dispense his blessings towards her, as she shall continue to dispense her acts of philanthrophy and benevolence towards her necessitous fellow creatures

☞ The Supper, intended to be prepared on Monday evening last, at the subscriber's house, was, unavoidably postponed until THIS EVENING. The respectable characters who called, are requested to accept of his thanks and call again. J. WINTER.

PORT OF ALEXANDRIA....MARCH 3.

CLEARED,

Brig Abeona, Lewis, Falmouth, Eng.

SAILED,

Ship New Jersey, for Liverpool; brig Abeona, for Falmouth; schr Malvina, for New-York.

Port of Norfolk, Feb. 27.

Arrived, in Hampton Roads, ship Benjamin, Trueman, 13 days from Havana, bound to Baltimore. Capt. Dent, late of the British ship Berkeley, which was lost on her passage from Jamaica for this port, and Mr S. F. Smith, of Baltimore, came passengers in the Benjamin. A small pilot boat built schooner belonging to Baltimore, had arrived three days before from Annapolis, and the schooner Hampton, of and for Baltimore, had arrived the day previous to the sailing of the B. from Carthagena, and would sail in about three days. A large number of other American vessels were also in port waiting cargoes, names of none of them recollected. Passed about a week since, in lat. 33, a French squadron, consisting of a frigate and ship, sloop of war rig. in co. with a Spanish brig and schooner, the former bound to Martinique from Havana; the latter (a Guineaman) also for Havana. Markets extremely dull—flour $5 per bbl; Pork none in market, but would sell well; beef $13; lard 27 and 30 cents; coffee 19 a 20 cents per lb; sugars 12 a 14 cents; molasses 28 a 30 cents per gallon.

A gentleman who came passenger in the ship Benjamin, from Havana, states, that a ship (formerly of Baltimore) a brig and two schooners, commanded by Com. Brown, had arrived from Buenos Ayres and landed at Marial; and after taking in some fresh provisions, for which they paid liberally, and treating the inhabitants with marked politeness, sailed again—supposed, however, only to cruize upon the coast, with a view of intercepting a Spanish frigate daily expected from Vera Cruz, with specie.

Fan-Sash Making
METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expence in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.
Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as if in town.

CHARLES COUNTY COURT, August Term, 1817

ON application to Charles County Court, by petition in writing of Samuel C. S. Jack, of Charles County, for the benefit of the act of assembly for the relief of insolvent debtors, passed at November session 1805, and the several supplements thereto on the terms mentioned therein, a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors on oath, so far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition, and the court being satisfied by competent testimony that the said Samuel C. S. Jack has resided two years immediately preceding the time of his application in the state of Maryland, and being also satisfied that the said Samuel C. S. Jack is in actual confinement for debt, and the said Samuel C. S. Jack having entered into bond with sufficient security for his personal appearance in Charles County Court, and answer such allegations as his creditors may make against him: It is therefore ordered and adjudged that the said Samuel C. S. Jack be discharged from imprisonment, and that by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some one of the newspapers edited in the district of Columbia, once a week for two months successively, before the third Monday of March next, he give notice to his creditors to appear before the said court at Charlestown in said county, on the said third Monday in March next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to shew cause why the said Samuel C. S. Jack should not have the benefit of the several insolvent laws of this state as prayed Given under my hand this 12th day of January 1819.

Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received, direct from the proprietors, the following valuable MEDICINES, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronized by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a family medicine. The fame of these pills has become so great, that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a stereotype label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Bilious Pills," and on the end of the label the words, "Samue Lee, patenter, &c. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's celebrated Eye Water,

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources.—Price 50 and 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Itch Ointment,

A certain and safe cure for that disagreeable complaint, as well as other irruptions of the skin. Price 37½ cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Anti-Bilious and Stomachic Bitters,

For weakly and infirm constitutions. Price 37½ cents a box.

Hinckley's Infallible Remedy for the Piles,

A most valuable medicine. Price 50 cents a box.

Thompson's Aromatic Tooth Paste,

For whitening and preserving the teeth—it may be used with the greatest safety. Price 50 cents a box.

Specific Drops for the Tooth Ache,

Which, in almost every case, gives instant relief in that distressing complaint. Price 37½ cents a bottle

Cooley's Vegetable Elixir, for Coughs, Asthmas, Consumptions, &c.

A very valuable medicine in those complaints. Price 50 cents a bottle.

For sale, in Alexandria, by Dr. Rich'd. H. Little; in Washington City, by Dr. David Ott; in Georgetown, by Dr. John Ott, Otho M. Linthium & Co. and Nathaniel Jewitt.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold it taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders, Consumptions, Lowness of spirits, Loss of appetite, Impurity of blood, Hysteric'l affection, Inward weaknesses and debility — Violent cramps in the stomach and back, Indigestion, Melancholy, Gout in the stomach, Pains in the limbs, Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

Stray Mare.

ON the night of the 30th December broke from the subscriber's stable a Bright Sorrel Mare, about 14½ hands high, with a switch tail, walks and trots finely; the only mark recollected is a snag in one of her shoulders. A liberal reward will be paid upon returning her either to Dr. Edward O. Williams, near Shepherdstown, Va. or to the subscriber, residing in Alexandria.

C. GRIFFITH.
